Her son will be remembered here having at one time been employed at the Express and Standard office.

VERMONT NEWS

Clifford Gregory caught a lake trout at Caspian lake, Greensboro, a few days ago which weighed 21½ pounds. An unusual number of large fish are being taken in that lake this season.

Gilbert E. Woods, president of the Citizens Savings Bank and Trust Company, of St. Johnsbury has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from Caledonia county. Mr. Woods served in the house last term.

Clarey-Ruell, Inc., of Burlington, a corporation which has a sales association with the secretary of state and deals in motor vehicles, conduct a show and sales room and handle real estate and merchandise. The company is incorporated at $10,000, by George F. Clarey and John W. Ruell.

Montpelier people who own the residences they occupy number 816, according to data compiled by Chas. De F. Bancroft, one of the city listers. There are 2040 pieces of real estate in the city and 1238 owners of real estate. The grand list is $50.89, or $12 per capita, according to the census of 1920. The grand list is $7030 larger than last year.

Harold Jones, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones of Scotch hill, was drowned yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, while playing with other children near an old quarry, which had not been worked in some time, being partly filled with water. The opening is known as the Jones quarry and is on the Estey farm.

C. E. Kent of Sherburne trapped recently a yearling bear, which makes a total of two bears and one bobcat within a week. The bear weighs makes 25 which Mr. Kent has taken in his career as a trapper and a hunter. He usually makes an effort to capture the animals alive in order that he can dispose of them to circuses and fairs.

What is said to be the largest fish ever caught in St. Albans bay was landed by Charles Young in front of Brigham's farm on the Georgia shore. The fish which was a northern pike, weighed 20 pounds and was three feet, five inches long, and one foot four and one-half inches around. Young was without a landing net and had to tow the fish to shore.

George Sosola of North Powney, a laborer in the employ of the Eureka Slate Quarries of Fair Haven, was electrocuted on June 17 while moving a motor into a pumphouse, according to a report to the State Board of Industries. Sosola was using a bar and it is thought he slipped and came in contact or connection with charged wires. He was 28 years old and has a wife and child in Yugo-Slavia.

At the North church, St. Johnsbury, Sunday morning Rev. F. B. Richards read a letter from the children of the late Mrs. Jennie B. Warden, Herbert J. Warden and Miss Alice B. Warden, announcing a gift of $1000 to the Sunday school to be known as the Jennie B. Warden fund. The income from the gift will be used for maintaining the Sunday school and if at any time there are larger facilities for Sunday school work the entire sum may be used to equip the primary department of the school.

Papers have been filed in the secretary of state's office in a suit for $25,000 which Ella Goddard, administratrix of the Estate of Allan Goddard of Lyndonville, had brought against the Boston and Maine railroad. The suit is returnable at the October term of United States court in Windsor. It is the companion suit to that tried recently in Burlington in which heirs of Louis Daniels were awarded $3,700 damages for the death of Mr. Daniels who was with Mr. Goddard when they were killed on a railroad crossing between St. Johnsbury and Lyndon.

The state convention of the American Legion will be held at St. Johnsbury September 15 and 16. Secretary of War John W. Weeks and Major-General Clarence R. Edwards have been Vice Presidents. Calvin Coolidge cannot attend on account of a previous engagement. Cornelius P. Hatch of New York has been elected to the position of president of the American Legion. The beautiful Red Rocks, property on Lake Champlain, just south of Burlington, to be converted into a resort and camping ground for soldiers of the late war who were wounded and disabled in actual fighting.

John Sapinski, 42, a Polish resident of Florence, was drowned there about noon last week Saturday while fishing in Otter Creek. Sapinski and his companion were fishing about 100 yards apart, the former sitting on a rocky ledge some distance above one of the deepest pools in the stream. Sapinski's companion saw his friend slip on the rocky edge and plunge head foremost into the water below. He rushed to the spot, but the body did not rise to the surface and it was some time later before Sapinski was taken from the pool. It is believed he struck his head on a rock before he hit the water in falling.

C. C. Delavan, inspector in charge of forest fire prevention for the state forestry department, says that so far this year 117 fires have been reported, of which 40 were caused by carelessness in burning brush. The railroads stand in second position as a cause of fires, and careless smokers in third. The cause of a number of the fires was given as unknown. Several of the fires reported have burned over more than 100 acres each. The highest damage reported is $1,000, in a forest fire at Goshen. The recent fire at Quaker City Park, in which a number of cottages were burned, caused a greater loss, but it was hardly a forest fire, as it is understood to have started in grass and caught almost directly to the cottages, although some trees were burned.

This is "Farm Clean-up Week" as proposed by the Vermont State Farm Bureau Federation and Orleans County Farm Bureau.

Serious Accident at Lowell

L. J. Pudvah met with quite a serious accident Thursday evening, while driving home from the village after the storm.

As he was crossing what is called the Aldrich bridge it had been so undermined by the rushing stream, that the weight of the automobile caused the bridge to drop into the water and the radiator of the car was driven into the bank of the stream with considerable force.

The automobile and bridge kept sinking into the water; this ordinarily is a small brook but had been swollen by the storm to a river about ten feet deep.

When Mr. Pudvah stepped out on to the running board to get out he was in water above the waist line, but managed after several attempts to climb up on to the roof and called for help but before anything could be done to get the car out the current had taken the car and bridge down the stream. The car was finally anchored about thirty rods from the road and left for the night.

The next morning the car was rescued from its watery position and taken to the garage for repairing, the estimated damage to car is about three hundred dollars.

Mr. Pudvah was fortunate to escape with only a few bruises as his position was precarious and he was in great danger of drowning.

BOOSTING VERMONT

Hotel Association Optimistic Concerning Summer Visitors

Robert H. Derrah, Director of the Industrial and Publicity Bureau of the Hotel Association of Vermont, states that the success of his five weeks' stay at the Hotel Woodstock, New York City, where he maintained a most complete and comprehensive bureau for the purpose of furnishing information to the public as to the pleasure-seeking public with information regarding the advantages touring and vacation region, far exceeded his fondest expectations.

Hundreds of people called at the bureau or wrote for information regarding the hotel, its hotel and summer boarding houses, the results of which Vermont will this year be visited by many people who have never before entered the state, through the work of the Hotel Association and its New York Bureau.

Mr. Derrah states that he has been able through the Bureau to rent many of the best hotels and resorts. The New York Bureau has been transferred to the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, Mass., where it will remain until the 15th of July. The Vermont State Board of Education have also engaged quarters at the Hotel Brunswick for the Convention of the National Educational Association the first week in July, which will bring some 50,000 strangers to Boston from every corner of the United States. Arrangements have been made so that Commissioner Dempsey and Mr. Derrah will work together during the convention, going over things in their power to convince these educators that Vermont, with its green mountains and fertile valleys, is the premier touring and vacation region of the East.

Vermont is coming and coming fast. The summer play ground said Mr. Derrah. All it needs is to acquaint the vacation-seeker with that we have in store for him. There is no question but that the Boston office in the Hotel Brunswick will prove as popular as the New York one. Mr. Derrah has received numerous letters from Vermont Hotels and Summer Boarding Houses stating that they have booked many guests through the New York Bureau. This is what demonstrates the value of an up-to-date bureau, where the visitor can obtain accurate information at first hand.

COOKING CLUB MEETS

The "We-Kan-Eat-It" Cooking club of the East side held their regular June meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett Smith, 46 Young street, Friday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Fourteen of the 21 members were present. Milo R. Bacon County Agent of Boys' and Girls' Club work was present and discussed plans for the Boys' and Girls' exposition at Barton Fair September 5 to 7. Plans for a picnic to be held on the own lake the middle of July was also discussed. Mrs. Fred Hall gave a demonstration on making salad dressing. Two demonstrations by members were postponed until next meeting. Two meetings of the club will be held in July.

GREAT MEETING ASSURED

Many Vermonters Going to N. E. A. Identification certificates of membership for one and one-half railroad fares to the great annual meeting of the National Educational Association in Boston, July 2 and 3, are rapidly being issued by the state director, Caroline L. Woodruff. This is an indication not only that Vermont has a rapidly increasing membership in the N. E. A., but that Vermont teachers recognize the great professional stimulus given by attendance upon this representative convention.

Requests from now on, either for certificates or for reservation of plate at the Vermont luncheon held at Hotel Brunswick July 4, may be sent to St. Johnsbury.

Luncheon tickets reserved will be found at Vermont headquarters at Hotel Brunswick after July 1.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Farmers Urged to Improve Appearance of Premises This Week The week of June 26 to July 1 is "Farmers Clean-up week." These dates were set by the Vermont Farm Bureau Federation.

The committee in charge of this work consists of: Mrs. J. H. Bartlett, Orleans; Mrs. B. C. Hawley, Essex Junction; Mrs. H. K. Brooks, Swanton.

Posters will be put up in prominent places and all possible publicity given to this movement. It is hoped that all farmers will make a special effort to clean up about their farms. Visitors from other states and town dwellers from our own state gain their impression of the efficiency of our farmers largely from the appearance of the farm.

A prominent visitor from the South last summer remarked that Northern Vermont farmers must be more business-like and more efficient than farmers in the South. He said he had noticed indications of this driving through the country and seeing the nice homesteads, and well kept door-yards, and well tilled fields. Vermonters take pride in believing that this statement was correct, but believe there is still room for improvement.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB

County Conference Held Here Saturday

A County Local Leader Conference in Boys' and Girls' Club work was held at the Farm Bureau office Newport Saturday.

The purpose of such County meeting is to impart to the local leaders a clearer understanding of the object of club work; how the Farm Bureau is functioning to obtain those objects; what the State Extension service can do to help; and, to gain a spirit of team work in putting across the work this year for our own greater satisfaction and benefit. The meeting was well attended opening at 10:30 and continuing through until 4 o'clock p. m. Mr. W. T. Abell, County Agricultural Agent, outlined the Farm Bureau work and by the use of charts Milo R. Bacon outlined the Boys' and Girls' Club work, this was followed by open discussion and questions. At 12:30 the club workers repaired to the Sunset Tea Rooms where a bountiful dinner was served.

The afternoon session was opened by a talk on special helps to Girls' club member leaders on clothing, cooking and canning given by Miss Emma Fuller, State Specialist on clothing and household management, of Burlington. Her talk was very instructive and helpful and was followed by discussion.

E. L. Ingalls of Burlington, State club leader gave a very interesting talk on club work organization, materials and their uses. His talk was followed by discussions. B. R. Buchanan of West Glover, member of the executive committee gave a talk of his experience and how he successfully organized the Glover Calf club. The meeting closed following a discussion of plans for 1922. Orleans County Boys' and Girls' exposition at Barton Fair Sept. 5-6-7, which was led by Milo R. Bacon.

An interesting and helpful part of the day's program was the exhibition of 50 or more books on farm and home enterprises, also good bulletins on the same subjects, both exhibits being from the Vermont State Library Commission at Montpelier.

Those present at the meeting were W. T. Abell, M. R. Bacon, Mrs. Eva J. Heyer and Mrs. Everett Smith of Newport; Mr. R. W. Buchanan and Mrs. R. W. Buchanan of West Glover; Mrs. E. V. Eastman and Mrs. W. E. Coffey and Miss Goldie Jenkins, West Charleston; Mrs. D. G. Speir, Mrs. Bertha Miller and Mr. Will Miller of Greensboro; Mrs. R. A. Dutton, Miss Jennie Chamberlain, R. A. Dutton and Mrs. Victor Swanson of Burlington, and Rev. E. Vernon Young of North Troy.

MEET ON OWL'S HEAD

Golden Rule Lodge Holds Annual Session Saturday.

Golden Rule Lodge, No. 5, of Stanstead, Que., held its annual outing on Owl's Head Saturday, June 24th, where they conferred the third degree on A. B. Nelson of Derby Line, the work being done in the natural lodge rooms on Owl's Head.

There were upwards of 125 Masons present, many going by auto and others by boat. The gathering was honored by guests from Montreal, Burlington, Utica, N. Y., and Massachusetts lodges were represented. Basket lunches were enjoyed during the noon hour and it was a most successful outing graced without rain. J. H. Watson and H. W. MacPherson were the only two from Newport in attendance, they going in the MacPherson boat.

Becoming despondent over continuing ill-health, illness which carried with it a great deal of suffering, especially for the past two or three weeks, caused Frank A. Haire, who lives on the old Jason Dimick farm on Alder brook, Hardwick, to attempt to end his life by shooting himself through the head last Saturday afternoon, between 2 and 3 o'clock. He used a 22-calibre rifle, the bullet going through the ear into the near vicinity of the brain, and while it did not cause instant death, he died at 6:30, the same afternoon, without regaining consciousness.
